As Project Manager for this major warehouse site, Manly managed the planning application as well as ensuring the client's needs were understood and conveyed to all parties involved in its construction.

Overcoming a number of ground condition challenges, the design work on this site necessitated innovative ground modelling work as well as on-site drainage balancing.

Manly also provided a full brief to the consultants, enabling the completion of a fully specified warehouse facility including fit-out of racking, lighting, cooling, IT, and fire and security.
